Department of Botany,
Pragjyotish College, Guwahati-09.

Date: 25/09/2024 (Wednesday)

A faculty exchange program was held today at the department of Botany, Pragjyotish College, Guwahati - 09. Dr Ipsita Bhattacharjee, Assistant Professor, Department of Botany, North Gauhati College, Guwahati - 31, conducted a theory class for the students of FYUGP 1st Semester Botany (Major/ Minor) of the college. She took a class on the topic of "Bacteria", under "Unit 2: Bacteria and Viruses", of course name: "Plant and Microbial Diversity".
The class was held from 1.00 pm to 2.15 pm in the smart classroom of the department.
The topic of Bacteria, its diverse types, cellular structure, genetic recombination, and economic importance were discussed in detail in the class. A total of 27 students attended the theory class. They interacted with the faculty actively during the class hour. The students also asked pertinent questions to the faculty to clarify doubts related to the topic. The guest faculty also reported that the class was very productive and fulfilling, particularly from the point of view of the responsiveness of the students in the class.
